Adjournment .................................................................................................................. Mitch Nesler
As we mark the 35th year of our organization, I am pleased to have spent this past year watching the North East Association for Institutional Research continue to work to improve our service to our membership. During the past twelve years, we have worked on continuing the projects that have been initiated over the last two years.

The Strategic Planning Committee formed in 2007 has finished their initial work and have brought to our membership to plan that has been approved by the Steering Committee and will be voted on at our annual business meeting. After the members have approved the plan, we can look forward to taking the steps recommended to move our organization forward and improve our service to our members for the next 5-10 years.

The significant increase in the number of talented hardworking members involved and engaged in NEAIR continues the trend of past years. Following the work from previous teams, we have continued to expand the number of volunteers in many facets of the organization (e.g., the conference program, local arrangement planning, the internal audit review, and the blind review process for conference proposals). As noted by our Strategic Planning Committee, our organization is the one of the premier professional institutional research organizations in the country, and continues to be the choice for professionals in the northeast.

With locations identified for two years out by last year’s conference Site Selection, it was decided that we can prioritize the committee’s time and energy in selecting a single site for 3 years out – 2011. As a result, the Site Selection Committee has proposed and the Steering Committee has approved the Park Plaza Hotel (Boston, NY) in 2011 for our conference location.

All the NEAIR standing and ad hoc committees contributed to the success of this year. Please also review their annual reports and learn of their forward-thinking activities and accomplishments for 2007-08.

It has been a pleasure and honor to serve as your NEAIR President for this past year. Working with all the talented individuals that make up our organization has been one of the greatest gifts that I could receive as a professional in institutional research. I want to thank each of you for helping to make my time as president so memorable. As we begin our next 35 years, I truly believe that we are ready to carry forward on our goal to maintain our role as a premier regional institutional research organization and with the committed and selfless individuals within our organization we can continue to offer our membership quality professional development opportunities.

Heather Kelly reported that NEAIR is in positive fiscal health. The Philadelphia Conference made a profit of over $5,000. She directed the membership to the formal report inside the business meeting packet. She asked the membership to note that a change in the ending balance was due to the establishment of a fund balance to cover one half of a conference’s gross revenues. Documentation for taxes has been given to NEAIR’s accountant. An internal audit is being conducted by a committee chaired by Alan Sturtz. An end of Treasurer’s term formal audit will be conducted by an external agent this coming year.

Focus groups are being conducted at the conference, and there will be an information session offered later in the afternoon. A draft of the strategic plan will be submitted to the NEAIR Steering Committee for review and discussion after the Annual Conference. The strategic plan will then be posted on the NEAIR website for review and comments by the membership.

9. Passing of the Gavel (Martha Gray, Denise Krallman)
Martha Gray passed the official President’s gavel and a presidential hat to Denise Krallman and congratulated her. Denise Krallman thanked Martha Gray and noted that her conference team would have a lot to live up to following the 2007 conference team of Martha Gray, Cindy Clarke, Louise Murray, and the many others who contributed.

Cate Rowan, the 2008 Local Arrangements Chair, noted that Providence has great theater and dining and is easy to get to and that we have a fantastic hotel for the conference.

b. AIR – Annual Forum in Seattle, WA (Mary Ann Coughlin and William Knight)
Denise Krallman introduced NEAIR members Mary Ann Coughlin, AIR President, and William Knight, AIR Vice President who invited all NEAIR members to Seattle in May 2008. Mary Ann Coughlin said that there were a record number proposals this year. She also announced that the new Executive Director, Randy Swing, would be taking office soon and that the 2007 AIR election ballot was available.

Denise Krallman said that AIR Associate Forum Chair and NEAIR member Jennifer Brown told her that it was possible that the Boston Red Sox would be playing a series in Seattle while the AIR Forum was ongoing.

11. Adjournment (Denise Krallman)
At 1:32. Denise Krallman declared the meeting adjourned.
Over the past five years, NEAIR has generally experienced increased costs for running the Conference and organization. Our total income for fiscal year 2007-2008 was $162,952.95, while expenses totaled $153,709.58. At the end of the year, we had a surplus of $9,243.37. As was begun last year, the Treasurer’s Report reflects the policy laid out in NEAIR’s Policies and Procedures to hold a reserve (Fund Balance) equal to one half the annual Conference’s gross revenues ($65,596.63). Thus, the ending balance $35,389.06 reflects this decision.

The Conference in New Brunswick and pre-Conference workshops grossed $131,193.26. Expenses (including future Conference planning and site selection totaled $125,049.81. The net profit was $6,143.45.

In 2003-2004, steering committee expenses were higher than normal. This was due to the fact that the post-Conference meeting, usually held at the conclusion of the Conference at the Conference site, was held at a different time and location. While it was decided in FY 2004-2005 that a joint Steering Committee and Conference planning meeting would be conducted to save on costs, this proved difficult to implement. The increased costs of steering committee meetings in the last 3 years reflect these scheduling problems. In addition, site selection expenses vary from year to year. In fiscal year 2006-2007, the site selection committee visited and decided on sites for 2008, 2009, and 2010. In the latest fiscal year, the site selection team visited Boston which will be the site of the 2011 Conference.

The income from the drive-in workshop was low in 2007 due to lighter than usual attendance. In contrast, the income from the workshop in 2006 was unusually high thanks to financial backing from AIR and high attendance.

Since FY03-04, NEAIR has utilized a private contractor for the Administrative Coordinator. Since a large part of the Administrative Coordinator’s duties are involved with the annual Conference, 40% of the Administrative Coordinator’s salary has been charged to the Conference beginning in FY05-06.

An audit of the Treasurer’s books was performed last year at New Brunswick by an audit committee comprised of Alan Sturtz (chair), Wendell Lorang, and Mary Louise Gerek. We are most grateful for their hard work and recommendations.

Finally, NEAIR’s leadership team continues to work to control costs while at the same time providing important member services and increasing NEAIR’s financial health.

Eleanor C. Swanson, Treasurer

Ending Balance | $58,218.73 | $67,939.12 | $78,684.88 | $24,928.92 | $35,389.06 |

NEAIR’s Policies and Procedures recommend that the Association hold a reserve equal to one half the annual Conference’s gross revenues (Fund Balance). The 2006-2007 and 2007-2008 ending balances reflect this recommendation.

Notes:
- NEAIR made a conscious decision in 2003-2004 to spend down the ending balance rather than pass costs on to the membership. As a result, at the end of FY 03-04, there was a deficit of $17,619.02, lowering the ending balance to $58,218.73.
- The Conference expenses in FY 05-06 include $7,000 for administrative coordinator fees in addition to the administrative coordinator line item. The Conference expenses in FY 06-07 include $7,520 for administrative coordinator fees in addition to the administrative coordinator line item. The Conference expenses in FY 07-08 include $7,840.00 for administrative coordinator feed in addition to the administrative coordinator line item.
The purpose of the NEAIR Professional Development Services Committee is to provide opportunities for professional development outside of the annual conference. This year these opportunities included summer drive in workshops as well as the Providence pre-conference workshops (coordinated by Steve Thorpe).

The drive in workshop concept has worked well in the past as an economical way for IR professionals to attend two workshops within one day. After reviewing the history of locations, topics and attendance at these, the committee decided to continue the format from the previous year and focus its efforts on one event in the summer at a central location within the NEAIR region.

After discussion on possible sites within the NEAIR region, the committee decided to offer the workshops in Philadelphia, PA to encourage an increased participation of IR professionals in that area. However, in the interest of providing opportunities to those who did not live within driving distance from Philadelphia, the committee determined that partnering with an institution that had the ability to offer the workshops online would increase the opportunities for participation. Drexel University’s School of Education had this capability and was willing to share it in exchange for allowing their graduate students to participate at a reduced rate. A small number of graduate students were anticipated.

The committee worked to select workshops that would appeal to different levels of experience but that would also have broad appeal. Therefore, the following four workshops were offered: Strategic Planning, Survey Research Design, Basic Regression, and IPEDS Peer Analysis System.

A current membership in NEAIR was not required to attend the drive in workshops. The registration fee for NEAIR members was $100 and for non-members was $125. The workshops were held on July 11, 2008.

The 2008 summer workshop attendance was evenly split between online and in person participants. There were 52 registrations total, about twice as many as in 2007. Both the online and in person participants evaluated the workshops positively.

While the charge to previous PDS committees has been to hold a “break even” event, given the association’s current strategic initiative to increase its fund balance, the committee recommends that a small surplus be targeted in the future. The 2008 summer workshops generated a surplus of approximately $2,600. In addition, the committee recommends that workshops be purchased individually, rather than as a bundle for the day. This will allow participants the opportunity to select the workshops they want to participate in without having to pay for extra materials. Several members requested the ability to select a single workshop.

The PDS Committee would like to thank the summer workshop presenters and Drexel University for hosting the event and providing the technology free of charge.

The charge to the Site Selection Committee was to explore locations for the 2011 annual conference and recommend a site to the Steering Committee.

In breaking with the prior two site selection committees, the 2008 Site Selection Committee opted not to use the services of a professional event planner from HelmsBriscoe to explore conference locations. Instead, we solicited bids and negotiated directly with hotels. Given the extensive expertise on the committee this year and the availability of multiple years of hotel contracts on the association’s website, we felt comfortable with this approach.

Using NEAIR’s documented conference site criteria and suggestions from the Steering Committee and membership, the Site Selection Committee considered a number of locations, taking into consideration the association’s recent conference history and the distribution of the NEAIR membership. The Site Selection Committee solicited bids for the 2011 conference from hotel properties in Mystic, CT; Cambridge, MA; and Boston, MA.

Based on the Site Selection’s recommendation and extensive discussions, the Steering Committee chose the Boston Park Plaza Hotel and Towers in Boston, MA for the 2011 conference. The hotel has been newly renovated and is well sized for the NEAIR conference. Based on our successful business with Starwood properties, we were able to secure a significant discount on the room rate of $179 per night. The hotel is a historic hotel in a nice section of Boston within blocks of major Boston attractions. In order to secure this highly discounted rate, the conference date will be December 3 - 6, 2011, moving the conference to the first week in December, rather than the traditional November timeframe.

Activities of the Publication Committee from the past year include the effort to submit available electronic historical Proceedings to the Education Resources Information Center (ERIC), an additional vehicle to showcase our member contribution. The Committee has checked submissions against the ERIC database, and all electronic Proceedings have been posted. The process of submitting older, hard-copy Proceedings to ERIC continues. On the NEAIR website, information is currently listed regarding Conference Proceedings found through ERIC.

The Committee has been charged with and continues to maintain the integrity of the website for editing changes, missing links, data omissions, etc. The website is reviewed periodically and any necessary changes are sent to the NEAIR administrator for inclusion.

The Committee will be gearing up for the annual review of submitted Proceedings from this year’s 2008 Conference. We are looking to continue to increase the number of submitted papers this year to enhance membership benefits for those individuals who could not attend the conference. The Committee also seeks recruitment of new volunteers as readers, so if you are willing, please contact the Publications Chair.

Nominating Committee

The Nominating Committee’s work this year included the following activities:

- development of descriptions for each position in the 2008 election
- creation of a nominee information form
- solicitation of nominees for elected positions and for emeriti status
- selection of candidates for the ballot
- overseeing the election process and notification of the voting results

To create position descriptions, the Nominating Committee, using questions they developed, interviewed current and past Presidents, Secretaries, Steering Committee Members and Nominating Committee Members. Summaries for each position were written and posted on the NEAIR website in the governance section and referred to in the Call for Nominations that went to the membership.

The Committee also created an information form for nominees to complete to indicate their interest in an elected position and to provide information to assist the Committee in understanding their experiences and qualifications. Included were questions that provided information necessary for the ballot.

A Call for Nominations for the elected positions and emeriti status was sent to the membership June 2, 2008 with a June 23rd due date. Fifty-four eligible members were nominated for one or more of the positions to be filled. All nominees were sent the new nominee information form to complete and return. Of the 54 nominees, 32 wished to be considered as a candidate for an elected position. Subsequently the Committee selected two candidates each for President-Elect, Secretary, Steering Committee Member-4 Year Private Institution, Steering Committee-at-Large, and Nominating Committee Member-Community College Sector. Ten were selected as candidates for Nominating Committee Member-at-Large. The online election was hosted by the Naval Academy with the invaluable assistance of Lou Cox. It opened September 1st and closed September 22nd with 203 of the 493 NEAIR members voting (41% participation rate).

The successful candidates are as follows:
- President-Elect: Heather Kelly
- Secretary: Nancy Ludwig
- Steering Committee Member - 4 year Private Institution: Ellen Boylan
- Steering Committee Member-at-Large: Michael Dooris
- Nominating Committee Member - Community College: Jean Marriott
- Nominating Committee Members-at-Large:
  - Annemarie McMullin Bartlett
  - Cristi Carson
  - Linda Junker
  - Louise Murray
  - Ann Marie Senior

The committee is comprised of three members from the membership at large who participate for a three- year period and one NEAIR steering committee member.

The Steering Committee approved the fund allocation of the Grants’ budget and the procedures for application submissions. All document regarding grants submissions are available on the NEAIR website. The fund allocation of the NEAIR grants budget of $3400.00 is:

- Ambassador Grants – $800
- Conference Grants – $1600
- Research Grants – $1000

Calls for Proposals for the NEAIR Conference Grants, Ambassador Grants, and Research Grants were issued via e-mail. The deadline for the Conference and Ambassador Grants was May 1, 2008, six members submitted proposals. Beth Simpson, administrative coordinator, received all proposals and then forwarded them to the past Chair (Heather Roscoe). Heather reviewed all proposals for completeness, removed all identifying information and forwarded the blind proposals to the Chair (George Rezendes) for distribution to the committee members for review. All reviews were completed during the month of May and all applicants’ were notified of results prior to June 1, 2008. The research grant applications were due by September 1, 2008. Two proposals were submitted. The blind review process used for the Conference and Ambassador Grants was employed for the Research Grant proposals. Reviews were completed during the month of September and the applicants were notified of results prior to October 1, 2008. One proposal was submitted for the SIOG grant and was considered by the steering committee during its July meeting. Funds were not awarded and the grants committee was tasked with developing more specific guidance for use of SIOG funds.

Grants were awarded to:

- NEAIR Ambassador Grant
  - Michael J. Dooris, Penn State University – to attend the 2nd International Conference on Educational Economics at the National and Kapodistrian University in Athens, Greece.
- NEAIR Conference Grants:
  - Benjamin Klimczak, Connecticut Community College System Office
  - David J. Leavitt, Bunker Hill Community College
- NEAIR Research Grants:
  - Shannon Tinney and Terra Schehr, Loyola College to study students’ educational intentionality.

- This committee worked diligently to meet all deadlines and receive my thanks for their work. A special thank you is given to Heather Roscoe, past chair, for her efficiency in reviewing all applications to make sure they were truly “blind” submissions and to Beth Simpson for her tireless work as the receiver of the applications. Both individuals were crucial in the grant submission process.

Respectfully submitted:

George Rezendes, Three Rivers Community College, Chair
Louise Murray, College of St. Elizabeth
Diane Petruccio, Ursuline College
Ingrid Skadberg, Quinsigamond Community College
Heather Roscoe, Eduventures (ex-officio past chair)
Mentor and Newcomer Program Committee

Mentor Program
The Mentor/Newcomers Committee has taken on many activities since the New Brunswick conference. Prior to the New Brunswick conference, 12 mentor/mentee pairings were made and one additional matching was made after the conference for a total of 13 pairs for the 2007-08 year. An online survey to assess the program was sent to all participants in early October 2008. Feedback and results will be reviewed by the committee to help improve the program and a summary of the results will also be posted to the Members Only section of the NEAIR website.

As part of the Providence conference registration and membership renewal process, registrants could indicate if they would like to request a mentor or would like to volunteer to serve as a mentor. As of October 21, 2008, there were 27 requests for Mentors and 23 volunteers to be Mentors. The Mentor Program Participants Reception was held on Sunday just prior to the plenary session.

In the spring, the committee reviewed and revised the documents related to volunteering to be a mentor and requesting a mentor to ensure they are collecting the necessary information to make the best match possible, but not overburdening volunteers with too lengthy of a form. Finally, a question about the Mentor Program Participants Meeting was added to this year’s conference evaluation so we can obtain your feedback about that event.

Newcomers Outreach
The committee reached out to first-time NEAIR conference attendees via email prior to the Providence conference to provide tips for getting the most out of their NEAIR conference experience. In addition, a Saturday night dinner group specifically for newcomers was hosted by Allison Walters and Jessica Shedd. As of October 21, 2008, there were 110 members for whom this is their first NEAIR conference. Of those, approximately 70 are new to the field of Institutional Research.

Additional Activities
In addition to responsibilities related the Mentor Program, this year the committee was charged with exploring broadening the already existing committee responsibilities of serving newcomers and Mentor Program participants to encompass serving the entire membership. Specifically the committee was asked to consider already existing NEAIR member benefits, how we may encourage more participation and usage of those benefits, as well as consider additional benefits NEAIR may provide to its members.

With this in mind, the committee reviewed and revised the NEAIR membership letters/emails that are sent shortly following the conference — one for New Members, Renewing Members, and for Non-Renewing Past Members — to further highlight NEAIR member benefits and encourage participation. The New Member and Renewing Member letters will now come from this committee to facilitate more communication between the committee and the membership. In addition, the committee has begun discussing potential promotional materials for the wide array of membership benefits, such as a brochure, as well as a “welcome kit” for new members.

Finally, to serve the needs of all members, both new and seasoned, the committee plans to develop a NEAIR Membership Resource Database. The database would be a reference for NEAIR members when they are looking for a colleague to “call on” with expertise in particular IR related functions. It is the committee’s hope that this new member benefit would provide a service to members that will also increase networking and facilitate the sharing of ideas and expertise.

Respectfully Submitted,

Jessica Shedd, Chair
Linda Junker
Nancy Ludwig
Allison Walters, Mentor Chair-Elect
The NEAIR Web Advisory Committee was established to develop a website for the association in order to better communicate with members and the broader IR community. Since the development of the website, this committee has evolved to provide more comprehensive technology services to the association and its members.

This year, the Web Advisory Committee looked at three online services that provide conference registration and information. The committee decided on Turnstile Systems, which NEAIR members used for the first time for registration for this year’s Professional Development Workshops and the annual conference in Providence. The main factors for choosing Turnstile Systems were the ease of use and overall efficiency of the administrative tools the service provides, especially as NEAIR’s membership and conference participation continue to grow.

NEAIR will continue to use other web-based services provided by AIR, e.g., server space for the association’s main website and the online proposal submission process. The committee extends a special thank you to AIR and Dana Keith for their continued technical support and valuable service.

Finally, we are proud to announce that Mark Palladino, from Philadelphia University, will be taking over as chair of the Web Advisory Committee. Roland Hall is stepping down after being involved with the committee over the past five years (three years as chair).

The committee would like to thank the membership for its continued support of these online services. Your feedback and ideas are greatly appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

The NEAIR Web Advisory Committee

Mark Palladino (incoming chair)
Annamarie Bartlett (conference website coordinator)
