2018 NEAIR Governing Board Slate of Leaders

	Multiple conference presentations and facilitated sessions Local Arrangements Boston Area Institutional Research (BAIR) Member since 2009 Rhode Island Institutional Researchers (RI-IR) Member since 2011 Established the first RI-IR SIG at the NEAIR Conference in 2017
Short Goal Statement:	I am honored to be chosen as a candidate for the NEAIR President-Elect position, and I am excited about the opportunity to serve our professional organization in this role. I can bring more than 28 years of experience in Institutional Research to the role, including progressively responsible experience from my start as a Research Associate (Analyst) to my current role as Assistant Vice President, and I have worked in both public and private sector institutions. I was a member of the Michigan Association for Institutional Research (MI/AIR) for about 18 years, during which time I had the opportunity to serve as Chair for one year, and as the MI/AIR Liaison to AIR for several years. I have been a member of NEAIR for almost 10 years now, proudly serving as a member of the Board in the role of Secretary from 2014-2017. I have benefitted tremendously from the professional development and the opportunities to serve NEAIR which have helped to shape my career and expand my network of knowledgeable colleagues. As a result, I would like to have the opportunity to give back to NEAIR in the ultimate role as leader of our organization. I believe that my prior service in the IR field, as well as my professional accomplishments and experiences over the past 28 years qualify me for the role of President-Elect.	I have benefitted so much from the trainings and relationships that I have received as a member of NE AIR for over 15 years. I welcome this opportunity to give back to the organization. NEAIR has been such an important part of my own journey in IR. NEAIR welcomed me when I was a newcomer to the field, has introduced me to a vast network of IR professionals, and has provided training and presentations that have advanced my own work. I feel that I am approachable and representative of many of our NEAIR members who juggle competing priorities, often short on time and resources, hoping to do the best job that they can. As someone who has learned/gained so much from NEAIR, I would be most focused on helping to continue to make NEAIR a home base for others, a network to ask questions, share best practices, and provide the high-quality conference experience. If I am chosen to be your next President, I will work to ensure that NEAIR remains relevant and responsive to the needs of individuals, wherever they be may be on their own IR journey.

Short Goal Statement (Continued):	If our recent conference themes are any indication of what the members of NEAIR are looking for, I can safely say that we seek recognition and appreciation for the work we do to support data-informed decision making, that we want to play a pivotal role in institutional success by maximizing our impact, and that we appreciate our past but want to be ready for change and prepared for the future. Along those lines, my goals for NEAIR revolve around continuous improvement of our organization, particularly as it relates to member benefits. As our membership increases and institutional budgets decrease, how do we best serve our members? How do we help to position our members to be the best of the best in the profession, and in particular, prepare them for the future of our profession? I have some thoughts about this, but I am interested in knowing what our members' thoughts are regarding these questions. Thank you for considering me for the role of NEAIR President-Elect.

Short Goal Statement:	By serving I will gain the satisfaction of knowing that I have given back to an organization that has provided me with so much over the years. I will hopefully be able to use what I have learned over the years to benefit others. My goal for NEAIR is for the organization to continue to be the welcoming, inclusive organization that I have always found it to be. One of its strengths has been the educational opportunities and support it provides to both people new to the field as well as opportunities for growth for people who have been in the field for some time. I would like to see NEAIR continue to serve as a forum for the exchange of ideas and exposure to new options in the use of technology as well as newer aspects of the industry such as data analytics and data governance.	I began my career at Temple University and the very first IR conference that I attended was NEAIR. I was not only professionally impressed with the quality of the conference, presentations, and resources shared by the organization, but was personally impressed by the willingness of the organization and members to mentor and welcome new members to the organization. Nearly 15 years later, I continue to be impressed with NEAIR as an organization and as I have grown as an IR and assessment professional, I value even more the significant resources that the organization provides its members. I am interested in serving because I would like to give back to the organization and the other NEAIR members, my colleagues, to help the organization to pass on the benefits that I have	NEAIR is a valuable forum for us to share strategies, techniques, and tools to support a data driven culture in higher education. I am interested in continuing the success of NEAIR as an organization that provides a wide a variety of networking and professional development opportunities. As an active member of the organization for over a decade, I have regularly participated in the exchange of knowledge, as conference attendee, presenter, reviewer, mentor, and elected member of the Nominating Committee. I am running for steering committee with three goals: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1.) Keep NEAIR responsive to the evolving needs of institutional researchers</li> <li>2.) Enhance the effectiveness of the organization</li> </ol>

I would also be interested in understanding how the organization can provide additional resources and professional development opportunities in a variety of ways including through greater use of technology.	3.) Support an organizational culture of possibility thinking and improvement I hope my technical skills for managing, organizing, analyzing, and presenting data will support the efficiency and effectiveness of NEAIR. I also aim to promote greater inclusion by working to further the participation of junior members in the organization as presenters and as members of working groups. I hope that you will consider selecting me for NEAIR steering committee.

Short Goal Statement:	It is my honor to have been nominated to serve on the Steering Committee. Over the years, I have met many great IR professionals and AIR leaders who have served NEAIR in various roles. NEAIR has provided me professional development and support throughout my career, especially during earlier years. The landscape of higher education is changing. IR professionals need to respond to the challenge of technology advancement, be aware of political environments surrounding us, and be able to advocate for our students through the jobs we do. My personal goal in serving NEAIR is to work with colleagues from the Northeast region toward continued development and growth of this organization. It is my hope that NEAIR can continue to provide professional development to its newcomers, as well as supports to seasoned members in a fast and changing world of higher education. If elected, I will work tirelessly on behalf of all members and endeavor to bring more visibility to community college IR professionals.	As an active member of NEAIR for over 7 years and having volunteered for several roles to assist the organization, I know the commitment and vision required to serve in this role. I am honored to be included as a candidate for the NEAIR Steering Committee for the Community College sector and if selected look forward to representing the unique set of challenges faced by Community Colleges and being the best advocate for their interests. In addition, I also I believe we can grow our membership to reach more than just IR professionals in the northeast region and the neighboring states, who do not have an annual forum as expansive as ours. This would be especially beneficial for Community Colleges, several of whom have peers beyond the confines of the northeast region.	If I am selected to serve on the NEAIR Steering Committee, I will support the continued growth of the annual conference and ensure that a variety of learning opportunities are offered to my colleagues. I specifically want to further the notion that IR professionals are leaders that will foster data-informed decision-making in higher education to ultimately improve student success.

Short Goal Statement:	I have been a NEAIR member since 2011 and have served as a Director of IR in the public sector for seven years. The invaluable educational, professional, and networking opportunities offered by NEAIR have helped me become the IR practitioner I am today. If elected to the Nominations Committee, I will advocate for a diverse pool of talented nominees who will represent our membership and contribute to NEAIR's mission, values, and aspirational vision. I look forward to meeting and collaborating with colleagues from around the region and serving our organization as we strive for excellence in the ever-evolving field of institutional research.	As a member of NEAIR for 12 years, I have had the opportunity to become very well acquainted with the programmatic opportunities the organization offers its members. NEAIR does a fantastic job of supporting the field of institutional research and its members. I have also had the opportunity to volunteer my time to NEAIR in a variety of ways. I would like to help NEAIR continue to seek out and encourage its members, both new and continuing, to be more involved with the organization. Also, I want to help the organization ensure all members are encouraged to run for office and lead NEAIR down the road. It is a great honor to be considered for this position.

Short Goal Statement:	Electing experienced IR personnel to the Nominations Committee is pivotal to maintaining the strength and continuity of our professional organization. As a seasoned IR professional, I would be honored to take on the responsibility of identifying and cultivating up-and-coming colleagues who could best serve NEAIR's needs.	As a NEAIR member for over 10 years, I have benefited from all types of professional development opportunities and networking. Now I would like to give back to the organization with my involvement in the nominations committee. The committee will identify and encourage talented members to become candidates to move the organization forward in continued support of its mission.	I have been in the IR field for over 20 years now, and fully appreciate the value that NEAIR brings to the profession. NEAIR is considered, at least among my colleagues, a leading organization for professional development in institutional research, assessment, planning and related fields. I feel NEAIR has been a pivotal professional organization and resource for me throughout my career, and I want to give back in whatever way I can, particularly in gratitude for what NEAIR has provided to me. There is an ever-growing demand for data intelligence, data analysis, and data-informed decision making. We see it in the news and in our professional news sources every day. My hope for the future of NEAIR is that we continue to be a leading resource for the field of Institutional Research and related professions. The importance of choosing individuals to lead such an important organization is key to its success. I would bring to NEAIR my experience serving on professional and leadership level search committees at the colleges and universities where I have worked and have an appreciation for the vetting process to find ideal candidates to fill key roles.

Short Goal Statement:	Since I began my journey into this profession five years ago, I have been struck by the generous service orientation that defines the institutional research community. From my literal first day in the office, I was the recipient of outreach by IR leaders across the NEAIR community who quickly became my mentorship and information network. I have additionally greatly benefited from the many resources and networking opportunities afforded by my NEAIR membership and conference participation. Thus, I was thrilled to learn of this opportunity to continue the service traditions of the field and pay it forward to an organizational community that has served me so well.	My goal is to give back to the NEAIR organization that has provided me with an abundance of resources over the years. Service is important to me both personally and professionally. I hope this service to NEAIR will help colleagues by bringing my varied experiences in IR, assessment, accreditation, and higher education compliance to the Nominations Committee.

2018 NEAIR Governing Board Slate of Leaders

Name:	 Daniel Sisco	 Christopher Vinger
Short Goal Statement:	The world of Institutional Research has grown and blossomed into diverse and colorful world which spans many different types of institutions and careers. NEAIR's role as a leading organization in the world of IR is based on its talented membership and their continuing commitment to learning and teaching the craft of Institutional Research. I am honored to be considered for the Nominations Committee. My goal as a member of the Nominations Committee is to serve NEAIR by finding and encouraging talented and inspiring IR professionals who are committed to seeing the organization grow and prosper.	I love the professional development, networking, and supportive environment that I find within NEAIR. To keep the organization vital, we need to continue to have diverse and inclusive representation in our governance and service committees. Having worked at wide range of institutions (community college, research university, special focus, and for-profit college), I can bring a broad perspective on institutional and role diversity that could be helpful for a role on the Nominations Committee. Over the years, I have also met and interacted with a wide cross section of NEAIR members, and I think my familiarity with so many members could be useful as well for service on this committee.
